

A black sign on a stand is positioned in front of a glass door with wooden frames. The sign has white text that reads "Meeting Room" and "Public Hearing on Climate Change". A yellow sticky note is taped to the sign with the handwritten text "By Invitation Only!!".

We want to be part of this conversation.

When did the public get taken out of the “public” debate? Our country was founded on the idea of free and open debate. But this standard does not apply when it comes to climate change. People who question the science are labeled “deniers.” They are silenced and ignored by the media and politicians.

Some of the most distinguished scientists in the world have called fear of global warming “preposterous” and “grossly exaggerated.” More than 31,000 American scientists have signed a petition saying “there is no convincing scientific evidence” that humans are causing, or ever will cause, catastrophic heating of the Earth’s atmosphere. Yet politicians and the mainstream media keep parroting the claim that “the debate is over.” Well, it’s not.

Climate policy is too important to be made by a few bureaucrats and environmental activists.

Reject group think. Open up the debate.
